38 East 38th Street Tax Block/Lot #867/44

Another older row house given an updated façade (Charles Brigham, 1902, for H.H. Rogers, Jr.). In 1902 architect Charles Brigham was commissioned to design an entirely new façade resulting in an imposing limestone mansion overflowing with classical details—scrolled broken pediments embracing carved urns over the parlor windows, two-story fluted pilasters at the upper floors, menacing carved lions heads in the brackets of the limestone balcony and elaborate oversized volutes that rolled away from the free-standing Corinthian entrance columns.
